Hundreds of council staff refuse to accept pay cut

Luton steps up bid for city status

PLUSH Luton Hoo Hotel was the venue for an event to further ramp up promotion of the town's city status claim.

Dignitaries, business leaders and guests gathered to celebrate the bid, which could generate a potential £5bn investment windfall for the area.

Speeches were given by Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins and Luton

Borough Council's regeneration boss, Colin Chick, while dance performances reflecting the town's culturally diverse mix highlighted exactly why it deserves city status.

The bid was formally handed over outside the Cabinet Office in London in May, marking the end of a ten month campaign in which the town has sought to emphasise the extent to which all of its communities are united behind it. The Love Luton campaign has already raised more than £100,000 from businesses.

More than 20 towns hope to secure the potentially lucrative prize of city status, which Sunderland reported created 30,000 new jobs.

The winning bid is expected to be announced in February 2012 while five months later the Olympic torch will be coming to Luton.

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 600 council workers who have been asked to take a two per cent pay cut have defied bosses and not responded to or rejected a change to their terms and conditions of employment.

The staff members have received follow-up letters of dismissal from Central Bedfordshire Council with an immediate offer of re-engagement on the revised terms and have until September 30 to respond.

A survey carried out by the GMB union at the council has revealed claims of bullying and intimidation. Staff responded to the study which found 79 per cent of them feel pressurised by councillors and officers to accept. So far 1,750 have accepted the new terms.

GMB organiser Tony Hughes said: "Only a fully independent inquiry into this will free the council of the damning allegations of bullying, harassment and discrimination."

"The examples of bullying and harassment are a total indictment of the council as an employer and its complete failure to give even the most basic consideration to its workers."

Council chief executive Richard Carr, who earns between £185,000 and £189,999 a year, said: "Central Bedfordshire Council does not tolerate bullying or harassment at work under any circumstances."

"We have well established and promoted systems to encourage staff to raise concerns if they believe that they have been subjected to this sort of behaviour so that any concerns can be then fully investigated.

"We have repeatedly asked the GMB to provide us with information about individual complaints so that we can investigate them but to date, no information has been provided. To date, the GMB allegations have been very general."

"There is no doubt that these are difficult times for our staff. We are reducing budgets, consulting on changes to terms and conditions and having to let people go."

"We fully understand that people may feel under pressure but there is a big difference between that and bullying."

"Because we take this issue seriously we have agreed to meet with the union to discuss their findings and we hope that at that meeting they are able to provide us with the information that we have been seeking. We will then take any necessary action as appropriate."

18 months for teen who made victim kiss shoes

A 15-YEAR-OLD robber who made his victim kiss his shoes before kicking him in the head has been sentenced to 18 months in prison.

The youth, who cannot be named for legal reasons, pleaded guilty to the robbery of an 18-year-old student in an alleyway between Swan Mead and Field Fare Green, Luton.

Luton Crown Court heard on Tuesday how the youth had been identified by the victim at Luton police station after being arrested.

The victim's chain was snapped from his neck, his mobile phone was taken and he was forced to his knees to kiss his attacker's shoes before being kicked in the head 'as if he was kicking a football'.

The youth had previously pleaded guilty to the offence, which took place on March 17, on June 13.

Speaking after hearing the sentencing, Detective Inspector

Richard Wall said: "The reduction of robbery offences remains a priority for Bedfordshire Police and I am pleased the courts are taking such a robust approach against such offenders."

"This sentence reflects the seriousness of the crime and sends a message to other criminals - no matter what age you are you will face a significant term of imprisonment for violent offences."

Landlords to take over care homes

VULNERABLE residents have been reassured over their futures after Southern Cross announced it would no longer run its care homes.

The group, which runs Milliner House, in Marsh Road, Luton, and Kirby House, in West Street, Dunstable, on Monday said it was to transfer all properties to landlords.

It is not yet clear what will happen to those currently in care but it is thought the homes will remain open.

The Griffin Care Centre, in Moorlands Gardens, Luton, also run by the group, has remained closed since January after being given the lowest possible rating by regulators the Care Quality Commission (CQC) in July 2010.

A Luton Borough Council spokesman said: "We are actively working with Southern Cross, and will work with the new provider once identified, to ensure a smooth transition of ownership and contractual relationships so as to minimise any disruption for residents and their families. As soon as we have proposals for Milliner Court we will be asking for a communication plan with residents and relatives involved."

Central Bedfordshire Cllr Carole Hegley said: "We will continue to liaise with Southern Cross to ensure that any decisions about the future running of these homes is communicated quickly to the residents involved and their relatives to give them peace of mind."

"Of course, the council has a contingency plan that has been prepared for the Care Quality Commission though we are expecting both homes to remain operational."

Southern Cross chief executive Jamie Buchan said: "My objective, and that of my team, is to continue to provide excellent care to every resident and to manage the programme of transition professionally."

MP gets ticking off for hitting the roof

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophiescott@lutononsunday.co.uk

NAUGHTY MP Gavin Shuker was 'very sorry' after being caught on the roof of the Houses of Parliament last week having ventured up to the restricted area 'to see the view'.

The Luton South MP circumvented security to reach the top of the building and see the River Thames with some unnamed colleagues but set off security sensors triggering a response team who were dispatched to find the intruders.

Mr Shuker and the rest of his group were immediately frog-marched from the roof and were told their 'behaviour was very irresponsible'.

The roof has been targeted by protesters on a number of occasions, including demonstrations by environmental activists Greenpeace and campaigners Fathers 4 Justice.

In March, just ten months after being elected, Mr Shuker was promoted to Shadow Minister for the Natural Environment. At 29, he is the youngest serving frontbencher in Parliament.

Labour MP Mr Shuker said: "I was told there was a route round the security to see Westminster's premier viewing platform so I jumped at the chance."

"It was definitely a sight and one of my boyhood dreams was fulfilled. That was until the security team were scrambled.

MARCHING ORDERS:
Gavin Shuker MP

"While they were pleased not to be greeted by representatives of Fathers 4 Justice dressed as Batman and Robin, it was pointed out to me that such behaviour among MPs was very irresponsible. Of course I am very sorry for doing it but I couldn't really hide my childlike grin as I was marched back into the Palace of Westminster."

The House of Commons had no comment to make.

Gavin has bucking good time at festival as he takes bull by horns

AS you can tell, Luton South MP Gavin Shuker had a great time on a bucking bronco at Farley community festival.

The free day was organised by Luton Borough Council as a family fun occasion at Stockwood Park. Mr Shuker said: "Not only was the day fun – as the photo of me on a bucking bronco shows – but there were lots of stands with information and advice."

"There were between 300 and 500 people who went along and more than 50 gave their views through the neighbourhood mapping as part of Luton council's 'Your Say Your Way' programme.

"These events are important, firstly because they bring people together from across all sections of the local community to celebrate in harmony with each other, and secondly because local people are getting involved in running and organising an event in their community."

Mother 'horrified' over girl's cannabis claims

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SCHOOL has refused to confirm or deny whether two boys excluded after being found smoking in the toilets were in fact using drugs.

A parent says she was 'horrified' when her daughter, who attends Ashcroft High School in Crawley Green Road, Luton, said two Year 8 pupils were discovered smoking cannabis in the loos at lunchtime on June 22.

Luton Borough Council said the school confirmed it has excluded two boys for smoking but that the school would not comment on the drugs claims. The police have not been informed.

The concerned mother, who has two children at the school, contacted Luton on Sunday after overhearing her daughter talking about the incident.

The mother, who we agreed not to name, said: "I heard my daughter talking about it and asked her for more details and when she mentioned it was cannabis I was horrified.

"I just thought are they available in the school and she basically said that this kind of thing goes on all the time.

"As a parent I understand kids smoke and some take drugs but to do it in a school, I think is a suspension really going to be a deterrent? Cannabis is an illegal drug. I feel like it is being swept under the carpet.

"These are still young children who are apparently doing this and I feel it is being deemed acceptable." A council spokeswoman said: "There was an incident with some boys smoking in the toilets one lunchtime.

"Students who smoke on school premises automatically receive an exclusion as it goes against the school policy.

"All school premises have a non-smoking policy. This is not a police matter.

"There will always be some adolescents who experiment with smoking. There are very few incidents of smoking at Ashcroft and they are always dealt with."

Catering firm puts neglect on curry pot burn victim

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE owner of a catering company has hit back at claims of neglect made by a former employee who slipped into an industrial pot of steaming hot curry – and instead blames her for causing her own injuries.

Shobha Sharma, the director of Shobha (UK) Ltd, based in Kingham Way, Luton, says CCTV footage shows former staff member Sudesh Bala did not attach a safety mesh over a bowl containing 50kg of curry before she fell into it.

Mrs Sharma also claims Mrs Bala, 47, also did not seek help from anyone else to help her move a heavy pot before slipping into the curry while working on an urgent order on October 9 last year to serve 500 people at an exhibition in Birmingham's NEC.

Last week, Luton on Sunday reported that Mrs Bala fell into the pot because health and safety was 'neglected' by Shobha (UK) Ltd.

Mrs Sharma said: "Sudesh Bala was fully trained, and the mesh was there to prevent people falling in. She didn't use it – we saw it on the CCTV.

"She sent her helper out, but should have called another person to help her. She wouldn't have fallen into the pot.

"She's exaggerating it for compensation. I feel sorry for her. But we did everything right. Everything was in place."

An investigation by watchdog Health & Safety Executive found that paperwork

Shobha Sharma and her daughter, Ritu Sharma. Inset, the burn injuries sustained by Sudesh Bala held by Shobha (UK) Ltd included a risk assessment (RA) and training record that were 'basic but adequate', but it did write a letter to the company issuing 'advice about using a trolley and non-slip footwear'. Mrs Sharma, who said CCTV footage proves Mrs Bala was in the pot for 'about ten seconds', as opposed to the ten minutes she had claimed, added: "We're not a bad company. I was shocked at what Mrs Bala had said."

Mrs Bala was taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital and then transferred to a specialist burns unit at Broomfield Hospital in Chelmsford.

She was treated for her injuries with extensive skin grafts and has been unable to work since, and the experience has left her with mental scars on top of the physical ones.

She had worked at Shobha UK Ltd for ten years and says during this time she did not receive any health and safety training at all during her employment and was even required to supply her own safety footwear.

Mrs Bala is seeking compensation from the company's insurer Ageas which is denying liability and declined to comment.

DBS Law, based in Birmingham, has taken on Mrs Bala's case on a no-win-no-fee basis.

DBS Law spokesman Richard O'Brien said: "The suggestion that the accident was Mrs Bala's fault, along with the very serious nature of her injuries and the idea that the safest way of moving pots of boiling curry is for two women to be dragging them across the floor, tells you everything you need to know about the conditions she was working in."

New school ready to welcome pupils

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN £8.9 million building project to create Luton's largest primary school has been completed and the facility will open its doors to pupils in September.

Downside Primary, a merger of Downside Infant and Junior Schools in Chaul End Lane, will be led by headteacher Karen Hooker, who is currently head at Sundon Park Junior School.

The existing junior and infant school buildings have been connected with a centralised reception and staffing accommodation block.

The building programme, which began in February last year, will enable the school to increase pupil numbers from 630 to 1,050 for four to 11 year olds, along with extra pre-school places.

The work included new and refurbished spaces to deliver 14 classrooms, improved circulation throughout the site and some external features.

Extra specialist teaching accommodation includes a community sports hall with changing rooms and a foundation classroom cluster, plus dedicated technology and community rooms. There is also a car park arrangement with improved pedestrian access, while substantial investment has provided better connectivity, server upgrades and wireless connections.

The project was delivered under a primary school transformation programme by Luton Learning Community Partnership, Luton Borough Council and Wates Construction. It was declared open by Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins.

Councillor Tahir Khan said: "This project has been a key investment in the primary school sector which not only helps address pupil place needs in Luton but also provides our young people and teachers with the 21st century facilities that they very much deserve."

"The improved facilities will also benefit the wider community as a whole. The school plays host to a number of community initiatives including parenting courses, women's groups and family numeracy programmes."

Woman seriously hurt in hit and run

POLICE are hunting the driver of a car that failed to stop after hitting a woman and leaving her with serious injuries.

It happened in Wheatfield Road, Luton, shortly after 10.30am on Thursday.

A section of the road was cordoned off by police accident investigators and large skid marks were visible on the road.

Investigations are ongoing to trace the driver.

Amputee soldier's 500 mile bike ride

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A RIFLEMAN who lost both legs in Afghanistan will cycle 500 miles for charity - using his hands.

Michael Swain, 21, from Luton, a member of the 3rd Battalion The Rifles, suffered the injuries in an explosion in Helmand Province in 2009.

He has helped to organise 'Ride of Britain', the first ever mass cycling event where members of the public and armed forces are invited to take part and support the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association (SSAFA) Forces Help, which provides support for serving personnel, veterans and their families.

Setting off from Edinburgh Castle on September 21, participants will cycle almost 500 miles across Britain, arriving in London on September 25.

Mr Swain plans to cycle the entire route on a hand bike which he learned how to master as part of his rehabilitation.

He said: "This will be the ultimate challenge for me. I have been prepping for this since mid 2010 and have taken part in a number of shorter bike ride events but this will be the toughest yet."

PEDAL POWER: Michael Swain in training with model Nell McAndrew

"I hope I can inspire the general public to get involved and support SSAFA, as well as servicemen and women who are receiving rehabilitation at Headley Court. SSAFA helps so many families and I'm proud to be able to give something back."

SSAFA ambassador Nell McAndrew said: "It is important to remember those who are serving overseas and to also not forget their families back home - that is why SSAFA is so important."

The route covers Cumbria, the Yorkshire Dales, Lincolnshire and Cambridgeshire. On the final day, the cyclists will pedal their way through London, finishing their ride at the iconic Horseguards Parade. For details visit www.ssafa.org.uk/rideofbritain

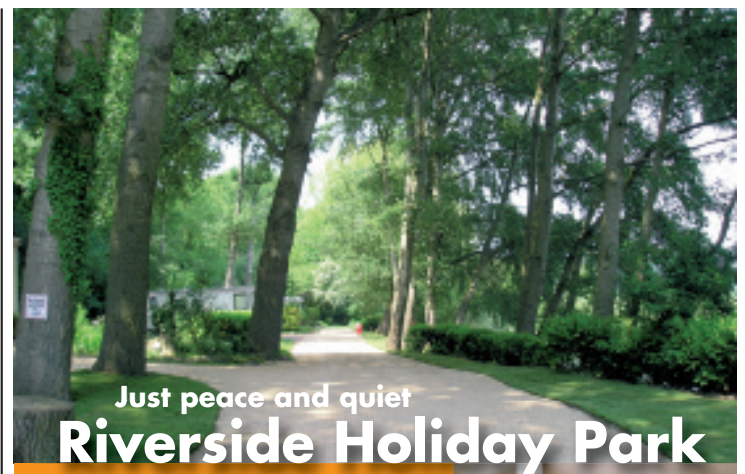

Seeing crime in the public's eyes

A FOCUS group was held to help tackle burglary, robbery, anti-social behaviour and crime prevention.

The event in Luton highlighted a range of issues to be tackled to help watchdog Bedfordshire Police Authority respond to the public's needs.

It was apparent most people only become aware of crime through the media and many did not realise specific issues affecting their community.

As a result, the authority has called for greater communication with residents.

Give dogooders backing

SIR - Further to the article last week about the Signpost volunteers working at Holy Trinity Churchyard. I am a member of the congregation at this church, and during the last week have had the pleasure of meeting and seeing these people at work.

They are an incredibly hard working group of people and in just a few days have made such a difference to the churchyard, and are planning to continue until it is all cleared.

This work is being done voluntarily but I, and I hope others will feel they deserve some financial support for their charity.

Hazel Gookey

No complaints upheld

SIR - I write in reference to the Michael Gilbert story in Luton on Sunday last week.

While Bedfordshire Police accept the Independent Police Complaints Commission assessment that the investigations by three separate forces into cases involving the late Michael Gilbert were 'flawed', it is only fair that we point out that none of the four complaints they looked into was actually upheld.

It is disappointing that your news story did not mention this important fact and therefore presented an unbalanced view of events.

Andrew Richer
Assistant Chief Constable,
Bedfordshire Police

Sunday is not a restful day

SIR - I remember when you could go for a lovely drive on a Sunday to the coast, or to a national trust park for a picnic.

Or you could visit one of many attractions and have a great day out. But not any more.

There is so much traffic on the roads, because of Sunday shoppers going to the supermarket.

Most supermarkets are open 24 hours a day Monday to Saturday yet our roads are bunged up with Sunday shoppers traffic.

They say that Sunday is the day of rest. Why can't they do their shopping on another day?

Spend Sunday washing the car, or have a roast dinner, go for a walk in the country. Relax.

I think that supermarkets should be closed on a Sunday.

No Quran contradiction

SIR - In reference to the letter entitled 'Re-writing of History', for clarity, I would like to make the following points.

The writer implies that the English versions of the Quran have been written to suit certain scientific discoveries.

I would like to point out that in the Arabic language, each word has approximately 15-16 meanings and it is impossible to precisely translate the Quran into English - this is why the English versions are described as 'The Interpretation of the meanings of the Quran'.

Exact translations into any language are impossible for the reason above.

Secondly, the writer has clearly not read the advertisement's content thoroughly as the Quran does not

Praise given to volunteer grave clearers

SIR - On behalf of my family and also a member or subscriber of the Friends of Biscot Churchyard for many years, I thank the 15 member team of highly-motivated unpaid volunteers team, which included ladies and gentlemen from the homeless charity Signposts, for doing such an excellent job in cutting the grass. Well done.

I plan to visit the graveyard sometime during the week.

I also wish to thank Christina Johnson, a reporter from the Luton on Sunday, for both of her reports. The first one enabled Anthony Jeffrey to read the story in LoS, so he was able to bring the story to attention of the deputy manager Phyl Rainey who sanctioned this work as their project.

Thanks to Mr Jeffrey and Miss Rainey.

Also thanks to the lady that made the project possible - Ann Dilks, branch manager for HSS merely allude to conception via semen, rather it outlines the eight stages of embryonic development.

Hire - for providing and donating the correct equipment to implement the project work.

Thirdly, in reference to the verses at Surah 86: 5-7 regarding where semen comes from, the verses read as follows 'Man should reflect on what he was created from(5). He is created from a spurting fluid(6), then he emerges from between the backbone and breastbone(7)'.

In the last verse, the word 'he' is a pronoun in Arabic which refers to the person rather than the fluid and the 'backbone and breastbone' refers to that of the mother.

If the Quran is studied correctly, with context and commentary, you will find there is not a single contradiction in it - please do not take things at face value.

Euro ruling wrong

SIR - Is it possible for the paper to contact Richard Howitt MEP, for a comment about the latest ruling from the European Courts on Human Rights (ECHR) about Britain not being allowed to deport convicted immigrants, child molesters and terror suspects, back to their own countries?

Recently Richard and two of his European political colleagues visited Luton and immediately condemned some people who want these undesirables 'booted out' as violent and some have subsequently been charged with public order offences.

Richard also said they took away 'positive feelings' from their visit to Luton. Was he referring to the ECHR ruling of these convicts who we must keep at taxpayers' expense and afford them every welfare benefit?

Not only have these convicted immigrants chosen to deliberately break the law, their humans rights are being protected by Europe, despite having violated other people's human rights, when they mugged them, raped them and molested them.

Not only was the Prime Minister publicly humiliated last week, the whole country was slapped in the face by this unacceptable ruling.

If demonstrating peacefully against such rulings is to become a public order offence, how can MEPs like Howitt claim they are representing us?

The ECHR should be charged with 'desertion and dereliction of duty' for 'not protecting our human rights'.

Police don't deserve praise

SIR - Although I support the police I hardly think they deserve praise for their swift action in arresting the drugs gang.

It's common knowledge that Adil Khan had been involved in the supply of class A drugs for years and it's amazing that he eluded arrest for so long.

And as for making the town a safer place, would your correspondent care to explain why a drug dealer with all the trappings of a minor celebrity would bother to get involved in the muggings, stabbings and rapes that plague our harmonious town?

It's the users who are committing the burglaries and selling their bodies for their next fix, not the dealers.

Drugs lead to crime, we all know that, but until a politician finds the courage to stand up and demand that all drugs are legalised (as tobacco and alcohol are) the crime will remain and people like Khan will continue to grow fat on the proceeds.

Join campaign against bill

SIR - I'd like to ask your readers to help with our campaign to highlight the unfairness of proposals contained in the UK Government's Pensions Bill.

I support the move to bring women's state pension age in line with men's at 65, but object to the speed of the increase for women to 66 by 2020, six years earlier than it originally planned.

As a result, around 330,000 women in Britain, will, at very short notice, have to wait an extra 18 months or longer before claiming their state pension.

I feel this is unfair and will hurt hard-working women, many of whom have worked for 40 years or more. Many of them have worked in relatively low paid jobs or part-time because of caring responsibilities and these changes will mean real hardship especially to those with poor health.

Age UK is asking MPs to ensure the Pensions Bill is amended to ensure that any increase to the state pension age beyond 65 does not start until at least 2020.

Readers can take action by sending a state pension age campaign postcard to their MP, asking them to stick to the Coalition Government's original timetable.

To request copies of the campaign postcard, or to find out more about the campaign please visit www.ageuk.org.uk/spa

Charity proud of walkers

SIR - On behalf of the Meningitis Trust, I would like to congratulate our 90 walkers who took part in our Three Peaks Challenges this year - with the last group completing the arduous trek on the weekend.

All of our walkers have raised vital funds for us through sponsorship and this year we hope to raise more than £70,000, which will make a huge difference to our work.

As we are reliant on voluntary donations to continue our work, events like the trek are essential to our future.

With support from determined people like our walkers, we are able to help over 20,000 people each year; supporting anyone affected by this life-changing disease with our free professional aftercare and support services.

These include a freephone 24-hour nurse-led helpline (0800 028 18 28), counselling, financial support grants, home visits, art therapy and one-to-one contacts.

We are extremely grateful for the team's commitment and if anyone feels inspired by their achievement, we are always looking for people to help with our work by getting involved in fundraising - whether it's taking on a once in a lifetime challenge like the London Marathon, or cycling from London to Paris, you can be assured that your efforts will make a difference to thousands of families who are struggling to cope with the impact of meningitis right now.

Registration has now opened for 2012 with our Three Peaks taking place on May 11-13 and July 6-8.

Visit our website at www.meningitis-trust.org for more information and to sign up.

Well done again to you all - we're so proud!

Flowers to remember

SIR - World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF) is giving people the chance to remember lost loved ones with a living memorial of wildflowers.

The annual Wildflower Appeal sees the charity provide packs of Heartsease flower - a member of the pansy family - to those who make a donation towards cancer prevention.

The seeds, donated by Chase Garden Seeds, can then be scattered and when grown they form a touching and permanent reminder of a lost relative or friend.

Alternatively people can select a wildflower from WCRF's 'virtual meadow' at www.wcrf-uk.org/wildflower Donations fund scientific research across the UK and overseas, as well as education programmes that raise awareness of how to reduce cancer risk.

Giving carers a break

SIR - Did your readers know that there are currently 750,000 people with Alzheimer's or dementia in the UK? This number is set to rise to more than a million people with dementia within ten years.

I work for a charity called Vitalise. Each year many thousands of people with disabilities and carers enjoy desperately-needed breaks with us at our accessible respite break centres around the UK.

We regularly have special weeks for people with Alzheimer's and dementia and their partners. Relieved of all their care worries, carers can regain their strength and restore a loving connection with their spouses.

If you or someone you care about is affected by Alzheimer's or dementia and you would like to know more about our special Alzheimer's and dementia Weeks, please call 0845 345 1970 or email bookings@vitalise.org.uk

£9k costs to put uni in line with Oxford fee

BY ADAM THOMPSON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

THE University of Bedfordshire (UoB) is to charge the same amount for academic courses as Oxford University.

From 2012, undergraduate students who attend the institution will have to pay out £9,000 per year for studies, and £6,000 per year if they wish to take up a foundation degree.

Bedfordshire will now be just as costly to attend as Oxford, despite ranking 100 places lower in The Times' university league table.

Luton on Sunday understands the student union is to hold talks with the university regarding the costs.

The changes to the fees were accepted by the Office for Fair Access (OFFA) with the UoB expressing its 'delight' at the new arrangement.

Vice Chancellor Professor Les Ebdon CBE said: "We are delighted that OFFA has accepted our proposed Access Agreement. We have always had the best interests of our students at heart and have been among the most generous universities in offering bursaries and scholarships to those most in need of financial support."

"We aim to continue to uphold those values as part of this new agreement."

The university also revealed it will provide a start-up scholarship worth between £1,000 and £3,000 for students with a family income of less than £25,000.

ACCEPTED: Professor Les Ebdon CBE

Owner out of pocket after tenants evicted

EXCLUSIVE

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LANDLORD claims he has been left with around £10,000 of damage to his litter-strewn house after the kitchen units and boiler were stolen.

Phil Brady, who owns the property in Russell Street, Luton, had rented it out to a couple just before Christmas last year but says he did not receive a penny from them after the first month's rent was paid.

Mr Brady, 50, had to take the husband and wife to court to get them evicted two weeks ago and, when he arrived at the house last Wednesday, he found the front door open.

Mr Brady, who works as a builder, said: "The backyard is covered in rubbish and there's rubbish upstairs and downstairs.

"The boiler, kitchen cupboards and drawers are gone. The banister is also broken and there's rubbish upstairs and downstairs.

"I didn't know this was what the property was like because I had taken them to court to get them evicted so I hadn't been in the property for about four months.

"They left on Sunday and there were only meant to be two people in there, but there were up to 15 people in there at one time.

"They weren't paying the rent or any of the bills. The damage to the house will be about £10,000 to sort out and I've lost out on around £5,500 from the unpaid rent and rates."

Mr Brady, who says the tenants did not give him a forwarding address or contact number, has reported the matter to Bedfordshire Police.

A force spokesman said: "We have received a call and we are furthering our enquiries."

It's the last round as Declan calls it a day

AFTER more than a decade of golfing fundraisers in memory of his teenage son tragically killed in a car crash, a long-standing pub owner is calling it a day and holding the final event on Wednesday. Reporter CHRISTINA JOHNSON spoke with Declan Duggan, who runs The White Swan in High Street South, Dunstable, about how 13 years of charitable work will come to an 'emotional' end

THE first Kevin Duggan Golf Day was held in 1999 to raise money for charities after he was killed by a drunk driver.

The driver of the car, in which 19-year-old Kevin was a passenger, had been drinking but, because he was unconscious after the crash, a blood sample could not be taken.

Following tireless campaigning by Kevin's family, the law was changed so that blood samples can be taken at hospital – and so 'Duggan's Law' came into being.

NOT FORGOTTEN:
Kevin Duggan

Each year since his son was killed in 1998, Mr Duggan has held the golf day charity event with all the proceeds going to the Kevin Duggan Golf Academy for underprivileged and disadvantaged kids at Stockwood Park Golf Centre, Luton.

The event at Mentmore Golf and Country Club, in Leighton Buzzard, on Wednesday will mark the end of the fundraising – in its current form at least – just as Mr Duggan's ownership of the pub also ends on September 5. Mr Duggan said: "This event is now up to 20 teams of 40 people so I reckon we will get between 80 and 100 people."

"We have had 144 people in the past but it's a sign of the times and we understand it's difficult for someone to take the day off work. We are mindful of that."

"We don't set targets but the first golf day raised £20,000 and the second £40,000 and then hovered around the £10,000s for some time."

"I'll be leaving the pub on September 5 and this golf day will be the last one in memory of my son so we want to go out on a high but there will be a tear in my eye also."

"Kevin and I learned to play golf together. Golf holds a really emotional attachment for me and my family."

Since Mr Duggan bought the pub in 1989, he has raised nearly £1 million for charity, of which £500,000 went towards setting up the Kevin Duggan Golf Academy.

The golf day this year is in partnership with Eric Woolf, who is raising money for the charity Action for Children, which Mr Duggan praised as a 'great charity'. He said: "Action for Children works with underprivileged kids which is exactly what we do."

The day will kick off at 8am with a full English breakfast for participants before 18 holes of golf starting at 10am.

People can then go back to The White Swan Inn for a barbecue, a presentation of the prizes and musical entertainment.

Mr Duggan added: "Anyone can come along to the night event and there is still time for those who want to play. If they contact me I'll try to squeeze them in."

When speaking about why he is selling the pub, Mr Duggan said the business has got 'too tough'. He said: "Dunstable as a town is struggling and the people of Dunstable deserve better."

"Small businesses are being crippled by big supermarkets, business rates and big chain pubs which can give away drinks cheaper than they buy it for.

"I will be staying here because I do love this town."

It costs £240 per team for the golf day and anyone who is interested in taking part can contact Mr Duggan on 01582 667833 or email declanduggan@hotmail.co.uk

Cannabis factory closed down in police raid

A LARGE cannabis factory was found on Wednesday after a police raid.

Around 90 plants were found growing in home made artificial conditions in the loft of a first floor maisonette in Brive Road, Dunstable.

Officers found dangerously-wired makeshift electrical connections and large gaps where trusses, that should have been supporting the roof, had been removed.

Police Inspector Bill Abram said: "As if cultivating illegal drugs isn't bad enough, the man who set this factory up had also created a dangerous fire hazard that, if it went wrong, would potentially burn down his own home and adjoining properties as well."

"This is why the information we received not only brought an illegal operation to an end, it probably saved lives."

"And that is why it is so important for anyone who has suspicions about similar things happening where they live, to let us know before it is too late."

A 20-year-old-man was arrested at the scene and is currently in custody at Dunstable police station.

Members of the public who have suspicions that this type of activity might be happening in their area can contact Bedfordshire Police on 01234 841212, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Mum of convicted loan shark punished over drugs and pepper spray

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN charged with possession of Class B drugs and a firearm has been sentenced to 60 hours unpaid work.

Alison King, of Arrow Close, Marsh Farm, appeared at Luton Crown Court on Tuesday less than three weeks after her son Gary King, 28, was convicted of running an illegal money lending business and jailed for ten months.

Warrants were executed at the mother and son's home after a complaint was made via an agency alleging Gary was operating the illegal business.

Simon Mortimer, prosecuting, told the court that during the search Class A and B drugs together with a firearm - pepper spray - were found, belonging to 48-year-old Mrs King, along with what were believed to be records of an illegal money lending business.

Both were arrested and later charged with illegal money lending offences; however these charges were later dropped against Mrs King.

Tony Quigley, Head of the England Illegal Money Lending Team, said: "Through investigating illegal lenders, we come across many other kinds of criminal activity, which is often closely linked."

"The illegal money lending team was put in place to investigate and prosecute despicable loan sharks, but as this case exemplifies, we have also had a significant reduction on other related crimes, and made a positive impact on communities."

"Our confidential hotline number is 0300 555 2222 and we would urge anyone aware of any illegal money lending activity to get in touch."

Luton Cllr Mohammed Ashraf said: "This prosecution reveals the degree of criminality and serious offences often associated with loan shark activity. I hope this successful case will give other victims the confidence to report other loan sharks operating in Luton."

The investigation and prosecution was led by the England Illegal Money Lending Team working in partnership with Luton Borough Council. Mrs King was ordered to pay back £250 in costs.

Youths in the dock over firearm charges

TWO teenagers have been charged with firearms offences following an incident in Cardigan Street, Luton, on Tuesday.

Majad Miah, 18, from Napier Road, Luton, was charged with the possession of a firearm and the possession of a class B drug, namely cannabis.

A 16-year-old youth from London, who cannot be named for legal reasons, was also charged with the possession of a firearm. Both appeared before Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday and were remanded into custody.

They are due to appear before Luton Crown Court on July 26.

YOU cannot hope to bribe or twist (thank God!) the British journalist. But, seeing what the man will do unbribed, there's no occasion to. Humbert Wolfe, an Italian born English poet who wrote this epigram in 1920, would recognise and not be too surprised by the happenings at the News of the World.

And in a way, his words encapsulate the issues of a free press. There are, of course, many people who would prefer a less free press.

The rich and powerful, politicians and celebs, some of whom seem close to gloating over the News International's problems, would love to see it shackled. Rupert Murdoch has long appeared as a pantomime villain to some groups and individuals in our society.

At last he is in the stocks and they can all throw poo at him.

Others see him and News International in a more sinister light, as having too much power, which is being wielded corruptly.

They also seemingly have the power to bully those who choose to fight them and politicians have acquiesced rather than take on the Murdoch empire. Why, for example, did not the Browns try to stop the story concerning their infant?

If footballers can keep their sexual exploits out of the tabloids, surely the medical condition of a young child breaches privacy?

Events in the last week don't mean we need new rules...

And the concentration of media power has not helped. If power corrupts then absolute power corrupts absolutely.

We cannot escape the fact that phone hacking is against the law and rightly so.

What has made this crime worse is that people working for the News of the World have allegedly been hacking into the phones of ordinary people suffering extraordinary stress.

On top of this has been the cover-up, which never succeeds.

Journalists are supposed to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable, not afflict the afflicted.

But we need to be cautious before running off getting new powers and new organisations to implement them.

There are laws and rules aplenty and because these have been broken it does not necessarily follow we need new ones.

It is worth noting that, as so often happens, journalists have done the job the police should have done, and the Press Complaints Commission could have done, in exposing these crimes.

The evidence, for example, of Milly Dowler's phone being hacked has been sitting on a police desk since 2006.

The rules are there and the laws are there, so perhaps we should be asking why they are not being enforced.

We need to ensure these laws are upheld as are the codes of conduct laid down by the Society of Editors, the PCC and the National Union of Journalists. The NUJ code of conduct states that a journalist: 'obtains material by honest, straightforward and open means, with the exception of investigations that are both overwhelmingly in the public interest and which involve evidence that cannot be obtained by straightforward means', and 'does nothing to intrude into anybody's private life, grief or distress unless justified by overriding consideration of the public interest'.

That seems fair enough and if it means we see less of the likes of Hugh Grant in the newspapers, it is a win-win for me.

Sections of the press need to clean up their act.

But some politicians have been only too willing to cosy up to media moguls, in the hope it will help their rise to power.

Mike releases first book after catching the writing bug

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN author has finally had his first book published after a six year struggle.

Mike French, 41, from Alexandra Avenue, Luton, who is currently the senior editor of 'The View From Here' which is a literary magazine based in the town, said he caught the 'writing bug' seven years ago.

Mr French's work entitled 'The Ascent of Isaac Steward' was brought out by Cauliay Publishing last month and he will be at a book signing next week.

He said: "I started writing about seven years ago and after I started, I caught the bug and didn't want to let go.

"This is my first book. It's one I've been trying to get published for six years and I've finally succeeded.

"It's a layered psychological drama about a guy who struggles to deal with the resurfacing of a suppressed memory of a car crash a year ago which killed his wife, Rebekah, his son, Esau, and left his other son, Jacob, in a coma."

Mr French will be at WH Smith in The Mall, Luton, on Saturday, from 10am, doing a book signing for most of the day.

Two hunted after attack on man, 46

A MAN was waiting to collect his son when he was attacked by two men.

The 46-year-old victim was standing at the junction of Shelley Road and Dunstable Road, Luton, when a silver VW Golf pulled up and a man got out asking the victim for a cigarette.

The victim began to walk away but the man grabbed him from behind, punched him in the face and as he fell to the floor he grabbed his attacker causing him to also fall to the ground.

A second man then got out of the car and tried to attack the victim but he managed to defend himself using the cigarette he was holding and burnt the second man's face.

Both men, who are described as of Asian appearance and aged around 27, got back in to the car and fled, leaving the victim with minor facial injuries.

Anyone with information can contact PC Rachael Welch, in confidence, on 01582 394107, or Crime-stoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Group move closer to shaping patient care by voting in new chair

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE NHS has moved another step closer to getting frontline staff involved in changing services with the appointment of a new chairman.

Dr Paul Hassan, who has a practice in Priory Gardens, Dunstable, was elected as the head of Bedfordshire Clinical Commissioning Consortium this week.

In April this year, the group was designated as a 'GP Pathfinder' to help take the lead in the Government's plans for commissioning health services by taking on responsibilities from the Primary Care Trust.

Since then, it has been testing new commissioning arrangements to ensure they are working well before more formal ones come into place.

Dr Hassan was voted as chairman following an official election of GP practices throughout Bedfordshire.

Of his new role, he said: "I am delighted to have been elected as chair and I look forward to working on behalf of all our GP practices as we move towards clinical commissioning."

"By being in charge of the decisions that affect our patients we will be able to commission high quality care that is tailored to the specific needs of our patients and the wider community."

John Rooke, the consortium's interim management leader, said: "Dr Hassan's wealth of clinical leadership will be invaluable to the continued development of our consortium and he will be a great asset as we continue to build a successful organisation with the aim of being authorised as a public body at the earliest opportunity."

Angela McNab, chief executive of NHS Bedfordshire, said: "I would like to congratulate Dr Hassan on his appointment."

"He has played a key role on NHS Bedfordshire's trust board for many years as clinical lead and I look forward to working with him in his new capacity of chairman."

WIGMORE FIELDS ON WIGMORE LANE, STOPSLEY LAUNCHES THIS SATURDAY 16TH AND SUNDAY 17TH JULY, CUSTOMERS ARE INVITED TO COME TO THE SALES AND MARKETING SUITE BETWEEN 10AM AND 5PM WHERE OFF-PLAN RESERVATIONS WILL BE AVAILABLE.

Located to the north east of Luton town centre in Stopsley, Wigmore Fields offers 38 two and three bedroom family houses all with private front and rear gardens and allocated parking. The two storey houses are all contemporary in style and finished to a high standard with quality fixtures and fittings installed throughout. Tall, long windows are used wherever possible to capture the views of the surrounding landscape.

The development has a distinct community feel - the semi-circular public outdoor space, 'the village green', offers a social hub for residents. The timber cube seating provides a space for watching your children play and the wild meadow flower planting allows the 'green' to blend harmoniously with the adjacent playing fields. There is a strong environmental ethos behind the development. Many of the existing trees and boundary hedges have been retained as well as new trees planted. Wigmore Fields has also been designed with excellent pedestrian access within the development as well as to the surrounding green areas.

With prices starting from £155,000 for the two-bedroom houses, please contact selling agent Connells Stopsley on 01582 737069 for more information, or visit the sales and marketing suite on Wigmore Lane between 10am and 5pm, Thursday through to Monday.

LONDON 2012 OFFERS JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR LUTON AND DUNSTABLE STUDENTS

Students who enrol on courses as part of the Bridging the Gap (BtG) project through a1 Training in partnership with Central Beds College will be guaranteed an interview to apply to work at the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The BtG project is currently being offered by around 80 further education colleges across the country, each providing students with specialist qualifications to work as part of a highly trained and motivated workforce to help support the venue security operation at the Games. The project was directly inspired by the security requirements for London 2012 and aims to address the ongoing skills shortage in the security industry.

Successful graduates will be guaranteed an interview with the security contractor G4S appointed by the London 2012 Organising Committee to supplement the security requirements at the Games. If they are successful, they will perform a range of duties to ensure spectator safety.

The BtG project will provide opportunities for over 8,000 people, with many being exposed to a fresh range of career opportunities for the first time. The project is supported by the London Organising Committee for the Olympic and Paralympic Games (LOCOG), with the additional support of The Home Office and the British Security Industry Association (BSIA).

David Evans, London 2012 Project Director at the BSIA said "There are currently 900,000 young people out of work in the UK. Bridging the Gap will equip those on the project to work in areas ranging from aviation to retail and from manufacturing to financial services. We are delighted that FE colleges across the country are so committed to attracting students to become involved in this initiative. It is boosting the professionalism of the sector by putting it on a firm academic footing."

Students who become part of the project can gain qualifications in 'Understanding Stewarding at Spectator Events' and the 'Level 2 in Door Supervision'; the latter qualification being necessary to apply for a Security Industry Authority (SIA) licence. The CCTV Award and the NVQ in Spectator Safety qualifications are also part of the project. To date, over 3,000 young people and adults have gained a relevant qualification from over 80 colleges and training providers across the UK.

GUARANTEED JOB INTERVIEWS

The project has been designed to provide outstanding career opportunities and, through the BSIA, guaranteed job interviews with a BSIA member, whilst also giving students excellent work experience at numerous annual major sporting events such as Wembley, Wimbledon, Ascot, Cheltenham, Epsom and at the biennial Ryder Cup.

This innovative project is intended to accelerate the increase of standards and professional skills in the security industry and become a legacy of the Games for the industry and the UK in the long term.

Bedfordshire set to serve up Esh and Bacon for Cambs clash

BEDFORDSHIRE have recalled off-spinner Chris Esh for next weekend's Minor County Championship match with Cambridgeshire at the Bedford Modern School ground.

He comes in for his Amphil team-mate Will Sneath as Bedfordshire revert to a more balanced attack.

Other changes from the side beaten by Cumberland at Sedberg School last week see George Bacon replace Martin Weightman, who is unavailable, and Oliver Swann brought in for Dan Simpson who has been struggling for form.

Swann is likely to bat in the middle order with George Thurstance moving up to open with James Kettleborough.

Bedfordshire went into the Cumberland match with an attack heavily reliant on swing and seam and a front-line spinner was badly missed.

Cumberland spinner James Lowe took five wickets in the Bedfordshire first innings.

Although part-time spinner Andy Reynoldson did a useful job, the lack of variety in the Bedfordshire attack, combined with the fact that strike bowler Andy McGarry was running on an empty tank after bowling 34 overs in the first innings, enabled Cumberland, who had been outplayed for much of the game, to come through to pull off a remarkable victory.

Having been set to score 220, Cumberland slumped to 64-6, but the seventh wicket pair of Chris Thompson (79) and Chris Wilson (68) were untroubled as they put together a 158 winning partnership.

The target should really have been much bigger for having established a 52-run first innings lead thanks to McGarry's impressive long spell which produced figures of 5-73, Bedfordshire were comfortably in control while James Kettleborough (70) and Andy Reynoldson (35) were at the wicket.

Tinkering with the batting order proved disastrous as five wickets went down for three runs, four of them with the score on 131. It was left to McGarry and Colin Griggs to get the score up to 167.

Bedfordshire picked up seven bonus points from the game, Steve Stubbings (60) and Oliver Clayton and Kettleborough, both with 48, being the main contributors in a first innings score of 288.

Cumberland were dismissed for 236 in their first innings.

■ BEDFORDSHIRE Under-13s defeated Oxfordshire U13s in a close fought encounter at Cople.

On an excellent playing surface, Bedfordshire won the toss and decided to bat. Skipper Ben Slawinski led the way with an unbeaten 68 and with great support from Adil Ali (44) and James Barron (22) as the county completed their 40 overs with a competitive 181/5.

In reply, Oxfordshire were always ahead of the run rate and looked set for victory at 116/3 from 26 overs but a superb spell of bowling from Ben Bradley (3-12), three wickets from James Barron and some superb fielding checked their charge and they were whittled out 15 runs short of their target.

Coach and Bedfordshire senior team veteran, Will Sneath, called it, "A great all-round team performance."

DENIED: The first bout between Emmanuel Oshunrinde (left) and Jahmaine Smyle ended in a technical draw

Manny taking cue from hero Hopkins

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

EMMANUEL Oshunrinde is on a mission to prove boxing's authorities right after they earmarked him as a potential world beater.

The Luton-based Floridian has made a stuttering start to his career in this country with defeats either side of a contentious technical draw against Jahmaine Smyle that denied him his first win and first KO.

The former basketball player is set for a re-match with the Leicester bruiser on Renaissance - Graham Earl's second promotion in his home town on Sunday, July 31, at Liquid Nightclub (2.30pm).

But for the American super middleweight, affectionately known as Manny, Prizefighter semi-finalist Smyle is just a hurdle on his way to emulating hero Bernard Hopkins, the current WBC and The Ring light heavyweight champion.

He said: "I'm looking to take this thing far. Jahmaine Smyle is just another obstacle on my road to the top. I'm not doing this just to make money, I want to be a champion."

"I've been told by the best coaches and by the British Boxing Board of Control (BBBoC) that I'm going to be a world champion as long as I can get my fitness right."

"They [BBBoC] wanted to have a face-to-face meeting with me and Graham, just to see if there was anything wrong mentally or physically."

"They had great things to say about me but were worried about me because of the last fight that I lost [a third round retirement against Sam Couzens]."

"I was very pleased with that and it makes me want to work harder when people who know their boxing give you that much encouragement - it's a beautiful thing."

"One of my heroes, Bernard Hopkins, lost his first fight. I will just take my losses as learning experiences. Hopkins is an inspiration for me and I try to emulate him because he's 46 and still beating up 20 year olds, but inside and outside of the ring he really carries himself in a respectable manner."

"It's not all about boxing - you have to portray yourself in a positive way because the public is watching."

Oshunrinde admits that he should have pulled out of the fight against Couzens in May at York Hall, Bethnal Green, due to sleeping problems in the build up. Though he plans to put it down as a learning curve, he is convinced he is prepared to go to war at the end of the month.

"You can never know everything, no matter how many fights you've had, you always learn something, even outside of boxing," he said, adding: "I'm not going to make any excuses, whatever happened, happened. On the 31st, God willing, I'll be on point and everything will go according to plan."

"My prediction this time is a win. I'll box him, bash him and beat him up. I've got to come through with the goods this time. It's more a pride thing this time around."

Earl said: "Manny is up in London at the TKO Gym. I put him up there because he's got some serious people to spar like (Southern Area cruiser-weight champion) Leon Williams, who's a big puncher and Mitchell Balker from New York, who won golden gloves in America and is undefeated. Manny needs those people to bring him on."

"Manny versus Smyle is a big re-match, top of the bill and this is redemption day for him [Oshunrinde] but I'm fed up of saying it - he's got to prove it now in front of his home town crowd."

Tickets for the fight are £30 from 01582 488184 or Earl's House of Champions gym, Unit 11 Hitchin Road Industrial Estate.

Rovers handed home opener against Bedfont

FOOTBALL

THE 2011/12 fixture list for the Evo-Stik League Southern Division One Central was released on Friday, handing Barton Rovers a home start against Bedfont Town on Saturday, August 13.

The Sharpnho Road club then face two away matches in seven days at Bedworth United and Beaconsfield SYCOB.

With Leighton Town and Biggleswade Town in the same division, Rovers' first Bedfordshire derby is at home on September 10 when they play host to the Waders.

Boxing Day sees Leighton make the short trip to Barton-le-Clay while there is a home clash on New Year's Eve against Rugby Town.

There is no match on New Year's Day but 24 hours later, Rovers travel to newly-promoted St Neots Town who romped to the United Counties Premier Division title last term.

In cup action, Barton face either Witham Town or Bedford at home in the FA Cup preliminary round on Saturday, September 3, while it is another all Bedfordshire battle in the Red Insure Cup with Arlesey Town the visitors to Sharpnho Road on Tuesday, November 1.

SWIMMING

A SIX medal haul for Mid Beds Swim Squad's (MBSS) Joe Murray, including a gold in the 50m breaststroke, saw him finish in the top ten in the 'top boy' competition at the City of Norwich Swimming Club's Midsummer Madness event - the final squad gala of the season.

The 12-year-old from Luton also won silver in the 100m, 200m breaststroke and the 100m individual medley, while he had third place finishes in the 100m freestyle and the 50m freestyle.

Ace Murray ends on high

Other swimmers from the town also put in impressive swims with Benjamin Sarsfield, 11, winning gold in the 50m butterfly and bronze in the 50m breaststroke. Sophie Bradley, 13, came home with silver in the 100m, 200m and 400m freestyle events plus bronze in the 100m and 200m individual medley. The success of the Luton swimmers plus other members of MBSS saw them take home the 'top visiting club' award.

Head coach, Caroline Sale, said: "This was a great end of season result, reflecting the commitment to training shown by the swimmers this season."

Brabin is hoping to land a merry Dance

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

GARY Brabin confirmed his interest in Crawley Town's James Dance after reports on Friday afternoon revealed a bid from Luton Town had been accepted for the winger.

The Hatters manager admitted the midfielder was on his radar after his side got their pre-season campaign off to a winning start, beating Hitchin Town 4-2 later that evening.

"We have certainly shown an interest and I'm waiting to see the developments and how far that's gone," said Brabin.

Asked if a bid had been tabled for the Conference winner, the manager said: "I need to catch up with the board and see how far we've got with that."

One player who won't be coming to Kenilworth Road is Grimsby's Alan Connell who is heading to Swindon Town after the Robins had a six-figure bid accepted by the Mariners.

But Brabin said he wasn't disappointed on missing out, saying: "He was a player we were interested in but as soon as Grimsby heard that we were interested they didn't want to help our cause."

"That's their decision and I think pretty much from the off they weren't going to do business with us."

The Hatters chief also ran the rule over a trio of players during Friday's friendly win at Top Field.

Former Lincoln City striker Drewe Broughton bagged two second half goals to help Luton come from two down against the Canaries, Amari Morgan-Smith and Matthew Barnes-Homer were also on target, while Neil Barrett and Will Antwi both played 90 minutes, though the manager was quick to clarify their presence in the squad.

"I think trial is a loose term," said Brabin. "A trialist is someone you don't know and when you bring them in they've got to impress you."

"They are players that, in the past, we've expressed an interest in but that are not automatically the ones we'd go for at the moment."

Midfielder Barrett played at York City with Alex Lawless and is a friend of the Welsh midfielder. Brabin said: "This is a club that he's interested in coming to and his name has been on the tip of our tongue for the last 12 to 18 months."

Defender Antwi, who was last at Dagenham & Redbridge, is another player the Town boss has monitored in the past.

He said: "Will has suffered with injuries for the last three years. He was a player that I remember from a few years ago who was a really good defender."

"He's sort of fell off the face of the earth a little bit, if you'll pardon the expression. I've had my eye on him in the past and there was an opportunity for him to come in [to train]."

■ Town play The New Saints (TNS) this afternoon (3pm) in the first of three back-to-back friendly matches in Wales. Brabin said: "That really will be a tough game. They've just qualified for the second round in Europe."

AT THE DOUBLE: Drewe Broughton grabbed two goals in Luton's 4-2 win against Hitchin Town

Hatters face double screen test as games are switched

FOOTBALL

TWO early season Luton Town fixtures have been switched so they can be screened on Premier Sports.

The trip to newly relegated Stockport County on Saturday, September 3 has now been brought forward to Friday, September 2 (7.45pm).

The following month, Town's match at Grimsby's Blundell Park will also be brought forward by a day from Saturday, October 22 to Friday, October 21 (7.45pm).

Last term the fixture at the Mariners' home ground was the first match to be screened on the television channel and saw the Hatters suffer a 2-0 defeat through a controversial penalty scored by Alan Connell and a header from Micky Cummins.

Luton's opening Blue Square Bet Premier match of the season on Saturday, August 13, at AFC Telford United has also been altered from a 3pm to a midday kick-off.

■ A Luton Town XI twice came from behind at Amphill Town to earn a 2-2 draw on Wednesday.

The team of second year scholars and first year professionals levelled at 1-1 in the first half through a fabulous Jean-Phillipe Yamfam strike.

After 11 changes at the break the young Hatters went behind once more only for Amadi Chisom to again equalise ten minutes from the break.
